CLIENT Oakwood Shopfitting

LOCATION NRG - Ricoh Arena, Coventry FC

DESCRIPTION Electrical Fit-out

DATE April-June 2006 (10 Weeks)

From networked photocopiers, to the latest printers and fax machines, the new NRG office at the Ricoh Arena in Coventry will showcase its latest products and services to its prospective clients.

The 10-week high specification project was completed in June 2006 and incorporated a suspended floor with under floor power, busbar distribution system and cable baskets for data installations. In addition, a fully galvanised containment system has been integrated including low smoke and fume cables, ceiling busbar distribution system and plug-in ceiling roses.

The centre-piece of the office is the impressive suspended ceiling which is set off with modern, functional lighting to highlight the high-tech range of products on offer by NRG.

Working for primary contractor Oakwoods Shopfitting Ltd, the 6,500 sq ft project, located within the grounds of Coventry City FC's stadium has been a total success, being completed in under 10 weeks to the delight of the clients involved.

"...I just wanted to say a big thank you for all of your hard work on the NRG project, at the Ricoh Arena.

It has been a pleasure to work with you and your team and both we and the client are delighted with the results.

It has been nice to work with such a professional and pleasant team and we hope that we will have the opportunity to work together again soon.

Thank you once again."
